Depot Days is that special time when we stop to celebrate the saving of our landmark Goleta Depot, along with its colorful history and its significance as a community treasure.

Join us for a fun-filled celebration for the whole family! Only $5 per person to enjoy the following and more:

- Live music from local talent Rick Reeves
- Kids’ activities and entertainment (bounce house, story time, arts and crafts, toy train table, and more)
- Silent auction (Sunday) and vintage treasures (Saturday)
- Displays of steam engines and model railroads
- And yes, much more!

Mark your calendars for the big event Aug. 11-12, 11 am-4 pm.

*Must be 34” tall for miniature train ride and 48” for handcar.

New Fun in the Visitor Center!
We unveiled our new toy train table at the museum visitor center this month. Museum associate Alexis Aguiniga was about to lay out the tracks when an industrious group of “professional” railroad builders rushed in and took over. We think they did an excellent job, but there’s always room for more builders and engineers. Come and join the fun!

* Help * Serve * Educate *

The Railroad Museum needs volunteers in all visitor-service areas. We can use your help as:
- Engineers and Conductors to operate the miniature-train and handcar
- Gandy Dancer Crew to help maintain the tracks of the Goleta Short Line
- Sales Associates at the museum store
- Station Agents (docents) to share the historical landmark and model railroad exhibit with guests

Volunteers commit to at least three hours each month. Both weekend and weekday openings are available. For more information, please contact Rich Kaplan at the museum office (805) 964-3560.

Helping Hand Brings Explosion of Color to Depot

Keeping the Museum beautiful is an unending task – a chore always in need of helping hands from the community. One young lady in particular has stepped up to keep our treasured depot looking fresh and pretty as, well, as a wild flower.

Katelyn Rode, ninth grader at San Marcos High School, has created a flower garden at the depot. The garden stretches 4 feet by 30 feet and is designed to attract Monarch butterflies. Moreover, it’s stocked with drought-tolerant plants.

Katelyn’s hard labors were part of her earning the difficult Silver Award as a Senior Girl Scout with Troop 50886. “I enjoyed working on this project, as I learned great skills, including fundraising,” says Katelyn. The project helps the depot, but also “educates the public about the plight of the Monarch butterfly as well as provide a new habitat for butterflies, bees and hummingbirds.”

The depot most heartily thanks Katelyn and her fellow scouts in troop 50886. We’re glad the youth of our community are appreciating the treasure of our historic depot!

Families Flock to Fun at Bunny Express

The Goleta Bunny Express rolled into our depot on Saturday, March 31. The celebration was a booming success with over 400 tickets sold. The Santa Barbara News-Press featured the event on page one and reported: “This 16th annual event was a chance for Goletans to once again discover this gem ... and introduce younger generations to the world of trains while offering the usual celebratory spring fun.”

What Would Franklin Do?

We think old Ben Franklin would have approved. We’re talking about the little free library located in front of our museum gates. It is a terrific replica of our train depot and was lovingly constructed by long-time volunteer Clay Rushing.

Franklin launched America’s first lending library way back 1731, when books were far too expensive for the average citizen. Franklin always liked ideas that showed we do better by working together. And what could be a better example of that than a free library? Certainly too, our railroad museum — which depends entirely upon volunteer work and donations — embodies Franklin’s idea of building institutions that strengthen our community and remind us of our shared history.

Clay Rushing and his wife Beth have long manifested that Franklin spirit as ongoing volunteers at the museum. Among other accomplishments, Clay has replaced the flooring in the model RR room and painted the Depot’s exterior. Thank you Clay and Beth!

Miguel Marquez, interpretive specialist for the Juan Batista de Anza National Historic Trail, awards certificates of appreciation to Trails and Rails volunteers Ryan Bates, Ester Ross, Bern Verbit, Becky Reid, Mike Topping, Ed Leska, Diane Kirchner and Noel Langle.

Volunteers and Donors Feted

A very special group of people gathered at the Goleta Depot on June 2. Serenaded by Rick Reeves on guitar, sipping wine provided by board member Brent Muchow, feted and honored were those special people who keep our museum alive and humming: our volunteers and donors. Board president Steve Wagner led the tributes, declaring, “This party is just a small display of our very great appreciation for all the donors and volunteer who sustain us day in and day out." Yes, generously offering their time and resources, it’s our donors and volunteers who keep this museum alive and available to the community.
